

INVITATION

ACADEMIC WEEK 12-16 September 2022

The purpose of Academic Week is to engage staff, students, and other stakeholders about Teaching and Learning initiatives as well as projects focused on strategic imperatives. Each faculty will showcase their teaching and learning strategies used within the respective disciplines. This initiative intends to inform the university community of the strategies that stand out from each faculty, to learn from each other and adopt those strategies that prove to work most effectively.

Theme: “Aligning Teaching and Learning, Research and Community Engagement towards a Node for African Thought”

Focus Areas:

- Digital transformation
- Smart university
- Student success
- Community engagement as a pathway for symbiotic relationship
- Entrepreneurship
- Internationalisation in higher education
- Traditional and contemporary African indigenous knowledge.
- Immediacy of gender-based violence and mental health
- Collaborative teaching and learning strategies

Enquiries may be directed to:

Mr T Ntshingila: NtshingilaT@unizulu.ac.za

Ms Y Mgobhozi: MgobhoziY@unizulu.ac.za

Ms S Ngcobo: NgcoboSI@unizulu.ac.za

Ms N Chihaba: ChihabaN@unizulu.ac.za

Prof F Fon: FonF@unizulu.ac.za

Dr A Ayandibu: Ayandibu@unizulu.ac.za

Dr NF Khumalo: KhumaloNP@unizulu.ac.za

UNIVERSITY OF ZULULAND

A NODE FOR AFRICAN THOUGHT

